Market Impact: Our products set new standards in timber finishing within New Zealand, giving architects, designers, and homeowners confidence in the quality and resilience of their Flooring.

It's important to clean with the correct products. Use a soft broom or vacuum regularly to remove dust and dirt. Choose a pH-neutral, water-based floor cleaner specifically designed for timber floors. Avoid harsh chemicals, abrasive cleaners, or excessive water, as they can damage the finish. When mopping, use a damp (not wet) microfiber mop.

The Lacquer finish is durable. But protect your European oak floor from furniture is important! Using soft pads or felt protectors on the bottom of furniture legs, such as chairs, tables, and cabinets. This prevents scratches, dents, and indentation marks caused by moving or resting furniture.

Additionally, avoid dragging heavy items across the floor and lift rather than slide to prevent damage.

Regularly checking and replacing protectors and pads helps keep your floor looking its best while minimising wear and tear.

Regular maintenance helps ensure the floor stays looking beautiful and remains well-protected for years to come.
